POTENTISED Dilutions

Potentised medicines are called dilution. Dilutions are the core of homeopathic treatment. The doctor's diagnosis, selections of medicine and the quality/purity of dilutions decide the success or failure of homeopathic treatment.

Quality, the core of JNSON's Dilutions :

The use of the genuine raw materials, back potency and expensive and purest form of alcohols, namely Extra Neutral Alcohol (ENA) make JNSON's dilutions superior to other dilutions available in the market. Extra Naturel Alcohol guarantees that the dilutions and mother tinctures are free from impurities. Drug potentisation is done using the Hahnemannian method, which was introduced by Dr. Hahnemann himself.

JNSON offer the wide range of dilutions, 3500 dilutions in different potency levels.

Dilutions make the back bone of Homoeopathy and curative power lies not only in the prescriber but also in the prescribed medicine. To be effective in the dilutions have to be made with precision and purity. To ensure this we at JNSON have adopted elaborate measures as explained below.

Back potencies are not prepared manually but is scrupulously matched with specification in a computer controlled potentiiser which is very important while making high potencies.

Dilutions are filled in dust free, air-conditioned not contaminated environment provided by laminar flow housing.

Dilution are filled in non-reactive neutral glass bottles which have been washed with demineralized water and dried at high temperature to make them sterile.
